

My Green Lake Story: Edward Heist

Our children were 12, 10 and 7 in 1973. The memory they talk about most is that they were allowed to hitchhike back to the camping area near the store after swimming near the lake. Once inside the gate, you were safe.

We grew close to Bill and Jan DeWitt and came to her fall conference eight years in a row. She made everyone feel special and included. We played Wizard card game every night.

What we like most about Green Lake is the sense of peace and God's presence when you are inside the gate; hearing great speakers like Richard Foster and Tony Campolo; and doing drama workshops and vespers for an environmental conference led by Owen Owens from Valley Forge.

Green Lake was always at the cutting edge. We came about 14 times and it made me a better pastor. Green Lake was the best thing about being American Baptist.

"Green Lake was always at the cutting edge. We came about 14 times and it made me a better pastor. Green Lake was the best thing about being American Baptist."